

GAY TOGS FOR SKATING

BY BETTY BROWN

Fashion has designed two more togs for the skating girl. Here they are, sketched from Fashion Art magazine—a saucy thing in saucy plaids and a more dignified garment in warm-toned burgundy.

With the plaid skirt is a coat of dark green pontine trimmed with imitation chinchilla. The worsted cap is green, with chin strap of green pontine.

The one-piece frock is also pontine with the lustrous surface outward. It buttons at the side Russian blouse fashion. The skirt has close set side pleatings. The sash is black velvet and the fur bands seal. The worsted hat is trimmed with bright-colored autumn leaves in leather.

OLDE STUFF

The cartoonist has a picture of a kid stealing jam. It's such common, every-day stuff to have the mother walk into the pantry and find Emil eating the jam, y'know—nit! Did you ever do it?

And another is to show a father with the baby walking the floor at night about to step on a tack—Shakespeare copped their stuff.
